

We travel constantly for our publishing business in our RV and have subscribed to XM Radio, which we fully support. We use the service for important weather updates and traffic conditions that are important to our travel. We are not able to always "connect" to local channels for this same type of information, if we do we have to wait until the proper time on the clock for the information to arrive. We pay for this service and this is the type of programming we want to hear. Thank you for your time.
